Acknowledgements

This book, an outgrowth of MoreSteam's 2007 Blended Learning Manifesto, is a collaborative effort from the staff and experts at MoreSteam.com. Special thanks to Bill Hathaway, Larry Goldman, and Kathy Miller, who contributed nearly a year of time and mental sweat towards the production of the playbook. Heartfelt thanks to Tim Kelley, Chris Paret, Ellen Milnes, Trish Ryckman, and Amy Clevenger for their insightful reviews and assistance with logistics and publication.

In the hustle and blur of the workday, the willingness to take the time to share knowledge and best practices is priceless. The tips, methods and commentary collected in this playbook are available to the reader by the generosity of those who have blazed the trail into Blended Learning for Lean Six Sigma and are willing to share their stories. MoreSteam is grateful to the following individuals and organizations for their contributions to this Blended Learning Playbook:

Peg Pennington and Peter Ward, The Ohio State University
Doug Evans, Quest Diagnostics
Keri VandeWater and Nick Turk, Bridgestone Americas, Inc.
Jeff Garcia, Bank of Oklahoma Financial Corporation
